BUSINESS MODELS

Every project is different from another project that's why Akims Technologies has created different outsourcing business models to choose from for you as per your project requirement. These models are not rigid and any business model can be combined with other models based on your requirement. As an offshore web development company, we provide fix cost, monthly hiring, and hourly models.

WHITE LABEL SERVICE

Expanding your business doesn't have to be expensive or stressful as white label service mean you can offer more services without investing in new staff, training or equipment. At Akims Technologies, we've worked with plenty of business over the years, including design, development, and marketing agencies, to produce custom designed white label products. As we're super flexible, we're happy to work as a part of your team or behind the scenes as a sub-contractor and no-name brand service that allows you to present the work to your clients' despite of not producing it yourselves but still can be presents as your own (once paid for of course)

FIXED COST SERVICE

When you make your mind to build something awesome with a clear idea of design and development, send us your requirements for Website development, Application development, along with the design considerations. We will get in touch with you for a discussion or in case of any queries. Once we finalize on above, we will be sending you the cost and timeline for your project.
